

Cultivating Community: Gardens for Good

Did you know that nearly 1 in 5 Lucas County residents struggle with food insecurity? You can help!

Do you, your neighbors, or your faith-based community have an interest in gardening? Consider starting a community garden or growing extra produce for donation to local food banks and food pantries.

This workshop will provide you with information and skills to begin a community garden. Learn about: Organizing volunteers and support; Growing in an urban environment
Local resources and funding; Where and how to donate food.
